The Negro as a Froducer.

The Richmond Dispatch is not pleased with General Mahone's opening speech and wants him to understand that slavery was a good thing for Virginia.

Natural Gas for Wheeling.

The failure of Wheeling business men o subscribe the funds for the proposed natural gas test, is a disappointment. The project started out so well that the raising of the necessary amount of money semed to be assured.

"Sunser" Cox left a will of few lines which go straight to the point. He desires his wife to have everything be had to give, and this the will directs in short compass. This was not one of the genial man's jokes.

Judding from the comments of some of our esteemed contemporaries, many so-called dramatic companies are on the road this year that could be better employed hoeing corn. Is it a fact that the inter-State commerce law forces the actors to remain at home?

Major McKinley is always entertaining, for he always knows what he is talking about and knows how to use the English language with effect. His Martin's Ferry speech was a clear exposition of the campaign in Ohio, and it will bother the other side to get away from it.

A woman with a Chicago foot hates to have it said in St. Louis that she wears a No. 12 shoe. Manufacturers have found this out and are supplying dealers with shoes that tell no tales. The dealer who knows his customer accommodates her with any number she wants. He is prepared to fit a No. 3 shoe to a No. 10 foot, by the simple expedient of stamping the shoe with a number to suit the taste of his customer. This pleases the fair customer and deen't force the corn crop.

Drunkenness is not a common failing of railroad engineers. The general reputation of the men who handle the throttle is so good that the public holds them in the highest exteem. The Chicago engineer who went to his work drunk and crashed into a passenger train, will be cashed into a passen

Catarrh can't be Cured.

The Fourteenth street track would enable the company to improve the Island service, and by so doing to expedite the whole service. The company's request should be granted, but with a proviso, properly secured, that the service shall be improved in a specified way.

If the company be in earnest in its professed desire to give better service, which the INTELLIGENCES does not question; it will not object to guarantee an increased number of trips per day on the Island line and on the main line. This it should easily accomplish with the Fourteenth street loop.

The South has raised heavier crops and made more money with free labor than it did with slave labor. In slavery days Virginia had some advantage over the other Southern States because she raised a large crop of slaves for the Southern market, but this cannot be the sense in which the Dispatch means to say that "negro slaves enrich a country."

Nor does the Dispatch seem willing to swallow the whole of its own dectrine. In the very next paragraph it says: "General Mabone tells us of the prosperity of Massachusetts. The fact is "A Great Discovery.
